FIGHT CRIME WAVE AS WE FIGHT ALL DISEASE EPIDEMICS

Criminologists Answer To Problem
Increasing Murder and Crime,
Abolish Capital Punishment
He Says.

WHY KILL THE PATIENT WE TREAT, HE QUERIES

By Edward Thierry
BOSTON, Dec. 21.—"Fight the crime was exactly as we fight disease epidemics."

That is the answer of Dr. L. Vernon Briggs, famous criminologist to the problem of increasing murder and lesser crime in America.

Dr. Briggs, author of "The Manner of Man That Kills," director of the Massachusetts Society for Mental Hygiene, and a member of the American Institute of Criminal Law and Criminology, made these recommendations.
Abolish capital punishment.

Sentence criminals guilty of capital crime to life imprisonment—
and let science study their cases.

Establish Habit Clinics in every city for subnormal and abnormal children between two and seven to prevent possible future criminality.

Dr. Briggs' punishment cannot stop crime because it doesn't remove the cause. He cites the Habit Clinic of Boston, established seven months ago under Dr. Thom, as the only agency directed toward preventing crime
by striking at the cause of it.

Kill Disease, Not Patient

"When we fight typhoid, tuberculosis, yellow fever and similar disease epidemics," he says, "we don't kill the people afflicted and destroy the germs
and every bit of evidence about them.
Instead we study the cases, isolate them, examine the germs microscop-ically, and find a serum that will cure
Science strives to kill the disease;
not the patient."

"Why not treat crime like that?
Why kill the patient by hanging or electrocution, and kill the evidence with him? Hanging was originally designed as a deterrent—a horrible example—because it was public. Now it is secret. The man who suffers from the disease of criminality isn't moved by an example he hears about second hand."

Dr. Briggs suggests legislation that "will make capital criminals available for scientific study. But to get at the root of the trouble he would have the Habit Clinics established in every city.
"Laws are archaic," he says, "when they judge criminals insane on the basis of not knowing right from wrong. By that test 90 percent of those sent to asylums rather than prison for capital crime are perfectly sane—for even a domestic animal knows the difference between right and wrong."

Present Generation Can't Be Cured

"A person may be sane, yet mentally defective. Those who are the ones we would save from bringing them
under observation at the pre-school age.
"We will never check the crime wave until we regulate mentally and physically those children who through environment may become the criminal class of the next generation. The present generation cannot be cured. The next can, because science knows that heredity has little to do with criminal tendencies, but environment has."

More Murders.

NEWARK, N. J., Dec. 21.—More than three times as many murders occurred in America's 28 largest cities last year than 20 years ago. The rate per 100,000 population was 9.3 highest in history, as compared to 8.5
the previous year.

These figures are announced by Dr. Frederick L. Hoffman consulting statistician of the Prudential Life Insurance company.

Seventeen of the 28 cities show an increase in murder, he says, Memphis still leads, with a murder rate of 56.5.

Howard Moyers, Levi Moyers and Miss Lucinda Moyers of Goin, Tex., were victims in Middlesboro Thursday.

BANDITS SEIZE 94 CASES WHISKEY NEAR BARDSTOWN

One Squad Keeps Watch Over Government Guards at Distillery While Another Loads Liquor From Locked Warehouse.

CUT TELEPHONE WIRES TO PERFECT THEIR ESCAPE

By Associated Press.

BARDSTOWN, KY., Dec. 21.—Whiskey bandits early today swooped down to T. W. Samuel's distillery at Deats-ville in Nelson county, nine miles north of here, and while one squad besieged three government guards in the distillery office where the bandits kept them under constant fusillade of shots another squad broke into the warehouse and got away with a number of cases of whiskey estimated as high as 94.

The bandits loaded the liquor in automobiles and sped away either toward Shepherdsville or Louisville. Before leaving the bandits cut the telephone wires and the guards were compelled to walk to Samuels, three miles away,
to give an alarm.

The first warning guards had was when the bandits shot into the office windows. Guards dropped to the floor and remained there while the bandits kept the house under constant fusillade and meanwhile, other bandits cut local telephone wires and removed liquor to the warehouse and removed liquor.

PRELIMINARY HEARING FOR BERT JONES TOMORROW

Preliminary hearing for Bert Jones, in city jail, in connection with the death of Jess Bull, will be held Friday morning at 9 o'clock before County Judge Bingham, according to Chief U. E. Hall. It is not known yet whether or not the defendant will waive examination and be bound over to the grand jury. He has never made public his preference on this point.

STAR HITTERS WERE ONCE-UPON-A-TIME PITCHERS

It is a rather interesting fact that the two most talked about batters in the American league last summer began their careers as pitchers.

Babe Ruth, the former home-run
king and George Sisler, the champion catchman of the Johnstown organization, were very much in the limelight last season. Sisler, for what he was really doing at the bat, and Ruth,
for what he was failing to do.

Ruth came to the American League
from Baltimore as a pitcher. Sisler came direct from the University of Michigan as a twister.

Both won high honors as pitchers before they took to first base and the outfield because of their hitting.

"Santa Can't Come, Dad's Sick," Tiny Tot Tells Small Brother Today

"Come on, Paul. Th' aint no use stoppin' and lookin' in at all the windows," a little girl of about eight years was heard to tell a small boy, evidently her brother, who appeared to be about two years younger, on a public street this morning.

"Won't do no harm to look, I remember," the little fellow returned. His protectress seemed to become somewhat mollified.

"If daddy wasn't sick this year, I guess we could have some Christmas too this year," she said, reflectively.
"If we could only have a big dinner
like we had one time—" Paul interrupted her glowing account of the one
"big dinner" by saying:

"Yes, an' we had good warm clothes
an' everything. I wonder why Santa Claus don't come no more?"

The small couple passed out of hearing but not out of mind, in fancy they could be seen entering their wretched abode upon which the ineradicable band of poverty had been placed from their conversation it could be inferred that a sick father gazed in in blank despair when they entered their room.

These children did not crave expensive toys and fancy gifts for Christmas. Food, solid substantial nourishment and warm serviceable clothing is what their starved and chilled bodies need. It is for such unfortunate cases as these that the Empty Stocking Fund will be expended this year. A competent investigator will see that the most extreme cases will be relieved by this bounty donated by the citizens of the city.

GREEN, 81, OF MIDDLESBORO.

MEETS BROTHER, 73, HERE
FIRST TIME IN 63 YEARS

Sixty-three long years having elapsed since R. P. Green, age 81, of this city, and his brother, B. P. Green, age 73, of Asheville, N. C. had seen each other, the meeting which occurred yesterday between them was one of extreme happiness.

R. P. Green has lived in Middles-boro for thirty years—ever since the town was founded. His brother had lived in North Carolina during the greater part of the time since their parting. Though they have kept in touch with each other, circumstances have always prevented a visit. R. P.
Green says he would probably not have recognized his brother had he not been expecting the visit.

Mr. Green brought with him 26
apples which measured 2 1/2 bushels.
He will remain in the city until after the holidays.

MEMBER EXECUTIVE BOARD DROUGHT IN HERRIN RIOT TRIAL

Witnesses Testify Man Resembling Hugh Willis Ordered Ammunition And Was Seen Near Bodies Of Miners.

TWO WITNESSES NOT SURE MAN WAS WILLIS

By Associated Press.

MARION, ILL., Dec. 21.—The name of Hugh Willis, member of the Illinois Mine Workers' Executive Board, was brought into the testimony today in the trial of five men charged with murder in connection with the Herrin riots.

Two witnesses however, said they would not be positive in identification.
One witness said he saw a man he believed to be Willis with the crowd
near the roads where fourteen bodies were found. He heard shots and later viewed the bodies.

A clerk in a hardware store testified that a crowd of men came into the store and asked for guns and ammunition. He gave out eighteen weapons and 300 rounds of ammunition on telephone orders believed to be the voice of Willis.

DELUGE OF MAIL ON AT POSTOFFICE

Postmaster Says Packages For Near Towns Must Be Sent By Friday.

The great Christmas deluge of packages is now on at the postoffice, according to Postmaster Chas. E. Cook, who was so busy helping handle the great influx of packages that he could spare a few minutes talk today.

Yesterday and today the postoffice has been a Mecca for package-bearing patrons who have almost waited too long for mailing their Christmas gifts.
It is thought that the peak of the mailing will be reached Friday. Incoming packages will probably be at its height Saturday. Over 350 insured packages were mailed yesterday.

Packages mailed tomorrow will reach nearby towns in time for Christmas.
But after that date it will be impossible for them to be delivered, is the warning issued by the postmaster. Packages intended for a distant destination which have not already been mailed are doomed so far as their bringing cheer to recipients on Christmas day is concerned. Postal employees will not work Sunday or Christmas day, according to the postmaster.

Splendid cooperation has been given by the public in the matter of wrapping and addressing packages this year, said Mr. Cook, only a comparatively few having fallen below the standard. This splendid condition has rendered the work of the clerks much more efficient and pleasant.

that the incoming house committee be instructed to hang a Kiwanis emblem and charter in the grill room and place a card in the lobby.

Chas. G. Smyth gave the secretary's report for the past year and said $117
is in the banks toward the 1923 Ki-

The Life Worth While
Life is a great journey which stretches ahead,
A journey that all of us take;
So we must prepare for the hardships of life,
And a success of our travels make.

The journey of some is very short;
They are called back home you know
So the troubles they have don't last very long.
For back to their God they go.

But to some of us the trip is long,
And we travel on through years;
Our lives are saddened and softened, too,
And our eyes are dimmed by tears.

Let's live good lives, love friends and foes,
It's the only way to live,
Lift their burdens and help them on,
And your life to your Master give.

But you may say that the lives of those Who have borne the burdens of others
Are not—but neglected so,
And the best examples are mothers.

O, they bear such pain and such troubles stand,
And it's hardly worth the while
For what they gain many times is small,
And they yearn for even a smile.

But do you think that the God above
Who guides and governs us all Would fail them then or pass them by
In the last great trial of all?

Let's follow those who have done so well
In a world of love and prayer,
And throw away worldly broods though
It's hard to do,
We will find a home over there.

So let's try hard to be good and kind
For our life on earth is so brief
That troubles we think are so horrible now,
Will pass when in Him comes relief.

Let's live for the life that will surely come,
If we live as we would on that day
When our master comes and carries us on
To our home beyond the bay.

—Dorothy Elison Stewart.

MARRIAGE DOOMED

PREDICTS MARRIED WOMAN WRITER

Woman Doctors, Lawyers and Educators Hint That Financial Independence Penetrates Home Foundation, She Says.

By Josephine Van de Grift

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—Is the venerable institution of matrimony bound for the discard?

Have the myriads of women who went out into the world seeking financial independence made a discovery which is likely to penetrate to the very foundation of the home?

Women doctors, lawyers and educators have hinted as much while Mrs. Almon Hensley, writer and one time British militant suffragist, openly predicts that the next few years shall see determined strides toward a marriage compact that shall be "as easily entered into and as readily dissolved as the ordinary business agreement."

"Everyone knows," she maintains, "that as far as social law goes the question of marriage is purely one of economic import. With every step that women have taken toward economic independence there has been a growing revulsion toward marriage as men have seen fit to make it."

"The signs of the time point to a desire for easy divorce. This is the best proof of the need of reform in marriage. There are no satisfied married people trying to get apart."

"It is a supreme impertinence that the law, either social or judicial, should presume to interfere in the intimate relations of men and women."

Here the conditions which, according to Mrs. Hensley, will tend to become general during the next 50 years:

Marriage—The marriage contract will be purely a business contract for the protection of children. There will be nothing in it to compel a man and woman to live together.

Woman—The woman will maintain her independence and live her own life. Motherhood will be pensioned. Society will remove the obloquy from the unmarried mother.

Children—Children will live with their mothers rather than be placed in institutions. But where the mother is either incompetent or unable to care for them they will be placed in "home groups" looked after by women of maternal instincts.

ANIMALS CAN TALK

METHODIST SAYS

By Josephine Van de Griff
 RAYSIDE, L. I., Dec. 20.—Animals talk and understand each other much better than human beings because they never attempt to lie to one another. Rev. F. B. Crockdale, pastor of the Methodist church here, did not, as others have done, travel into the jungles of wildest Africa to arrive at this conclusion. Instead he made a study of his own barnyard.

"Observe, for instance," he says, "the hen."

"I could indicate a dozen or more warnings by which the hen with a brood of chickens endeavors to keep her flock out of danger.

"From my study window I can listen to a hen clucking and tell whether the cause of the excitement is a hawk or a dog and whether the danger is far away or near at hand.

"Or observe the sparrow. In a flock of a dozen sparrows quarreling eight or ten different cries may be distinguished.

"I trained a spider to come out of its lair when I knocked on the old wooden post where it lived. It would climb to my shoulder.

"Two dogs may be the best of pals but when one is 'disposed to play the other will pass it with no evidence of recognition.

"These and many other experiences have convinced me that animals converse with each other readily. It is by no means always done with sounds but more frequently by means of vibrations as in the case of the spider.

"Why should the talk of animals be of interest to the theologian? Because just as a dog's intelligence is increased by association with humans, so I believe that man's intelligence is increased by association when he allows himself to be drawn within the Mind that controls the universe."

"I WILL DO MY PART

—AT CHRISTMAS TIME"

By Alfred J. Barnard, Hamilton, Ontario, Canada

Every season brings its own peculiar gifts. Each is a messenger of light to the conscience of man. Each has its own message and inspiration, and thus comes as an angel to tell us the way to live. Spring ushers in the upspringing life, spelling hope and vitality. Summer opens the doors and takes us out into the open road and whispers the gospel of nature. Autumn brings us to the table the fruits of man's labor and teaches us reverent gratitude to Him who makes all possible. Winter brings us Christmas and we hear once again the song of the angels and join in a conspiracy of friendship toward each other that so kindles and warms the soul of man that cloudiness and snow of winter is forgotten.

This in general is what each season may mean. And yet each season may mean what each wishes and wills that it shall mean.

The Kiwanis Christmas will be the same as everybody's; but with a difference. At its best Kiwanis is Christmas in practice throughout the whole year. The thought of Christmas is giving; the hope of it is living; and the joy of it is serving. And that also is the meaning of the Kiwanis movement. It seeks to benefit mankind; it seeks to train leaders with a social outlook; it seeks moral reform such as shall give everyone a fair chance at the good things of life. Kiwanis is therefore Christmas in practice throughout the year. Thus the season is a prelude to the New Year in which the theme of the year is struck, and what follows is simply an unfolding of the theme. There are no Scrooges in Kiwanis, who say, "Christmas, Bah, Humbug!" If there are such, they also like Scrooge have seen the ghost, and like him they go into the street to regard everyone with a smile; to raise the pay of the clerk; to carry the turkey to the neighbor in need; to make the sun shine in dark places; and to brighten the lives of children. So each year some member has to get out the Santa suit regardless of the heat, help to make everybody happy. And as they meet each other in the street, the effect is like the sun suddenly shining on a cloudy day. Those who are depressed are cheered up. The music of the season is carried throughout the whole year in helpful deeds toward each other and all mankind, for Christmas is the prelude of the opportunity to share what one has received.

For the Kiwanis also the season strikes a universal note. He remembers that on December Twenty-fifth this day will be celebrated wherever the intrepid missionary has penetrated, and that thus the whole world will gather at the Manger again. The world democracy will bring its tributes to The Great Democrat. He recalls likewise the fact that all nations have contributed something to the meaning power of the event: The Jew gave the personality; the Roman brought the gifts; the German gave the tree; the English gave the Yule log; and so forth. This binds him to all his fellows and makes him feel not only his national citizenship; but his citizenship in the universal commonwealth of humanity.

Christmas, 1922 comes to us with a dark and foreboding side with shadows of suffering. Everywhere there are hands outstretched in need. Everywhere many men confront financial disaster. But it also has its bright side with its rays of brightness and promise. With a new sense of responsibility, men know that our method of living must be transformed, and there must be a fuller measure of co-operation for the good of all. And the season is thus challenging men to let the glad spirit run all through the year that the perplexing problems may be solved by the only solution of human brotherhood. And what is so bright about all this, the call is not falling upon deaf ears, for everywhere men are rising to say: "I will do my part, cost what it may."

So in the face of that which gives hope in spite of the darkness, we will cry to each other on Christmas morning: "A Merry Christmas!" And the words will have music in them because they come from hearts touched by the spirit of brotherliness. This spirit was in Him whose birth we remember. A spirit not only of charity, but one which sought to make good will cover all the ranges of life. We hope that this and each succeeding celebration of the anniversary of his birth will see the spread of His gracious sovereignty over wider areas of life, until the whole round earth shall sing at last the song of the angelic host:

Glory to God in the highest.
 And on earth peace among men in whom he is well pleased.
 Kiwanians, I wish you "A Merry Christmas."

POLITENESS DEAD AND BURIED? ASKS ETIQUETTE WRITER

Instead of Worrying About Manners,
She Says, We Should Concern
Ourselves With Ethics Which Prompt Them As They Are Only Surface
Indications.

THE SOUTH HAS GRACE OF MANNER AND GAIETY

By Marian Hale
What has become of our manners?
Everyone has asked the question.
Playwrights, ministers, novelists and teachers have answered it interestingly.

She is author of the new, "Etiquette," an imposing blue volume which is studied as deeply on Fifth Avenue as on Main Street the last word on what to do and how to do it, and what not to do and how to avoid doing it.

Matter of Ethics
"Instead of worrying about manners," says Mrs. Post, "we should concern ourselves with the ethics which prompt them. Manners are only a surface indication of what's underneath."

"It takes time to be polite, gracious and thoughtful, and who in these days has any time? Old-fashioned, slow-paced elegance of manners went out with leisure and the arts of conversation and letter writing."

"But, if by our curt, direct sentences, we mean the same thing that the Frenchman means by his polished phrases, we have nothing to fear because true politeness is merely one person's intention toward another."

Not the Motor
"Etiquette is the grace which lubricates our social machine, but it must not be confused with the motor."
"The social graces used to be acquired in the fireside group, where parents handed on to their children the family traditions and precepts which were to become their standard of living."

"Now books on these subjects are coming into being, because father is busy, mother may be dancing every night and the children seek excitement as well."

Setting Own Standards.
"It is not surprising that we find this generation setting its own standards."

"Selfishness is natural to youth, but it does not beget beautiful manners. When everyone wants to take and none to give, one may well face the consequences with apprehension."

"On the other hand, it is unlikely that hundreds of years of cultivation and development will be wiped out by a generation or so of heedlessness."

Speaks For Boston
Mrs. Post, both a writer and society woman, knows European as well as American society. Asked what she considered the most distinguished social life in this country, she answered, "Boston's."

"In the south," she added, "there is and in the west the sanctity of the home is of first importance. New York is accused of leading in laxity of conventions, but one should not judge by superficial appearances. It is the transients rather than the residents who squander, spend and burn the candle at both ends."

MAY NOW PLAY SUMMER BASEBALL

Southern Intercollegiate Conference Approves of Sport

Congratulations are in order for the Southern Intercollegiate Conference. I take great pleasure in extending mine.

The governing body of college athletics in the south has gone on record in favor of summer baseball.

It is a step in the right direction.

Sooner or later other college organizations will be adopting a similar policy.

The Southern Intercollegiate Conference has solved the question in the proper manner. The student athlete is really placed on his honor. Under such conditions it is a rarity for one to break his faith.

Students at southern colleges may play ball during the summer, provided they receive faculty consent for occasional games and report their financial receipts.

Permitting the college player to engage in baseball games during the summer on clubs that have no professional affiliations will do much to eliminate the trickery and deceit that for years has been practiced.

It will not be necessary for southern athletes to play under an assumed name in order to earn a little honest money that in many cases make possible their education. Incidentally many other unpleasant situations will be eliminated.

Regardless of college restrictions, college players are going to continue to play during the summer.

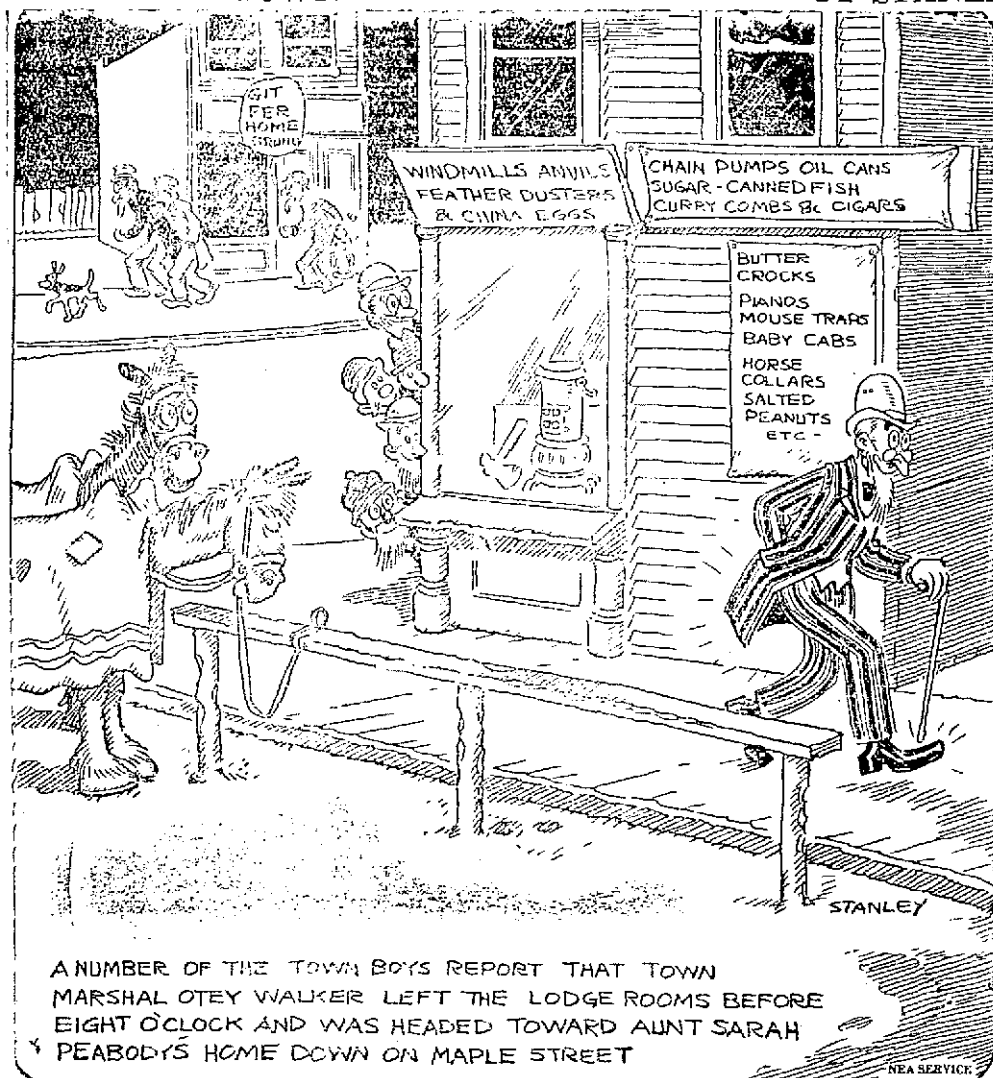

The Southern Intercollegiate Conference is to be complimented on being the first college governing body to decide that such action on the part of the athlete is no great crime.

To touch apples, when cooking, with a steel fork or knife leaves a sharp, acid taste. A silver knife or a wooden fork or spoon should be used.

Youth Glands Win Race for Aged Life-Termer

Doing 50 yards in seven seconds flat at the age of 73 is the record of John Ross, life-terminer at San Quentin prison, California. Ross' feat, at the recent field meet of the prisoners, is attributed to a youth gland experiment made on him by Dr. L. L. Stanley, prison physician. Picture above shows Ross crossing the finish line. Inset, Ross Railroad officials estimated that about 500 carloads of trees would be used in the middle west.

Trees From North

The trees used in Wisconsin and many of those distributed in Chicago territory come from the northern Wisconsin forests where woodsmen have been engaged in felling the small spruce and balsam. The trees are cut largely by settlers who go into the woods each year to supplement their earnings with a harvest of young evergreens.

In the use of Christmas trees, the National Safety Council has pointed out the dangers of decorating a tree with flammable materials and the use of candles for lighting, stating that many beautiful decorations of inflammable character can be used with very colorful effects.

Champ Commuter

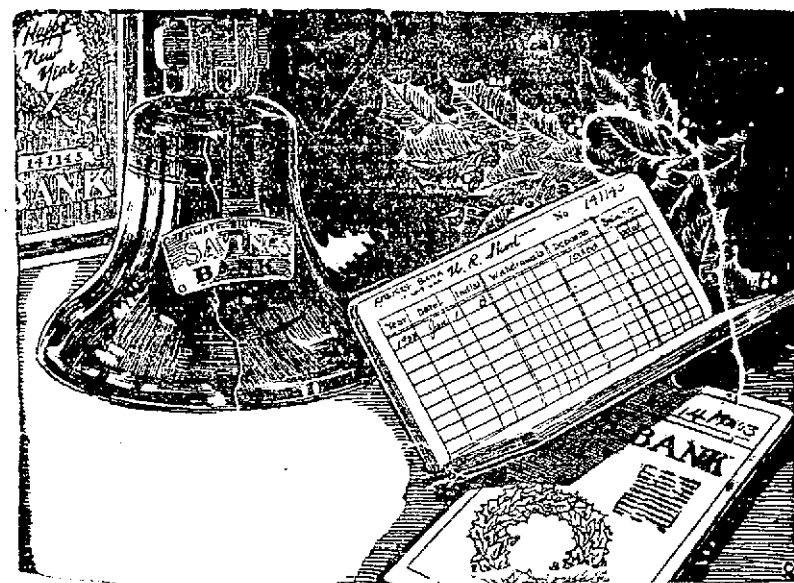

In his quiet way, Henry J. Fleischauer has established the record of traveling 1,000,000 miles (count 'em) in his daily trips between his home in Cold Springs, N. J., and his office in Philadelphia. Ever figure out how many miles you cover in a year's commuting and how long it will take you to reach the million mark?

RED PEPPER FOR RHEUMATIC PAIN

Red Pepper Rub takes the "ouch" from sore, stiff, aching joints. It cannot hurt you, and it certainly stops that old rheumatism torture at once.

When you are suffering so you can hardly get around, just try Red Pepper Rub and you will have the quickest relief known. Nothing has such concentrated, penetrating heat as red peppers. Just as soon as you apply Red Pepper Rub you will feel the tingling heat. In three minutes it warms the sore spot through and through. Pain and soreness are gone.

Ask any good druggist for a jar of Rowles Red Pepper Rub. Be sure to get the genuine, with the name Rowles on each package.

Give Yourself a Christmas Present

That is more wise than selfish, if the present be a Savings Account in this strong bank. It is a present that will not only last but will grow. Next Christmas it will be worth more than this, and in ten years it will have doubled. Some present!

A growing savings account means independence, freedom from worry and power to take advantage of opportunity.

CHRISTMAS IN MIDWEST TO BE ONE OF CHEER

Brisk Trade And Increased Activity Among Goodfellow And Charitable Organizations Are Indications.

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Dec. 20.—Brisk Christmas trade, increased activity among Goodfellow and charitable organizations, an ample supply of Christmas trees and widespread interest in community and neighborhood festivity planning, indicate that the Christmas season in middle-western states is to be one of joy, cheer and happiness.

Reports from various representative cities and districts show redoubled efforts in providing for these unfortunate ones, who, because of unfavorable conditions which existed in some industrial communities and resulting in shortages of food, fuel and housing, faced a season that would have been

but lukewarm with the spirit the period radiates.

The needy will be given Christmas cheer through the efforts of the Salvation Army, Volunteers of America, Newsboys' associations, Big Brothers, American Legion, Goodfellow clubs and societies who are cooperating with organized charitable associations, clothing, food and presents for the kiddies top the list planned for the Christmas basket.

As its Christmas offering the Wisconsin branch of the International Sunshine society will found and maintain a library for the Milwaukee county hospital.

To Charity

Contributions to charity, organizations which have not only a Christmas day to plan for but must serve the entire year, have been large. Three cities in Texas, Dallas, Houston and Ft. Worth contributed $805,000 during the year. Kansas City raised $750,000 for its combined charities during 1922 and will greatly increase this amount the coming year. It is estimated by Dr. I. S. Cutter, chairman of the Public Welfare committee of the Omaha Chamber of Commerce that the residents contribute about $1,000,000 to charitable organizations during the year.

Community Chest

A community chest for which about $4500,000 has been subscribed will take care of Cleveland's 115 charitable and civic organizations for the coming year. Lexington, Ky., has just subscribed $100,000 for charity for 1923 and Louisville, Ky., is engaged in a drive for $300,000.

Merchants generally say that the people have responded well to the shop early campaign and that consequently there will be less last minute buying. The popularity of Christmas savings clubs has done much to help Christmas shopping. In Illinois, it was estimated more than $15,000,000 will be paid out to members of these clubs. Chicago bankers estimated the 100,000 members of the clubs in the city received more than $5,000,000. In Cleveland, bankers estimated that a like amount will find its way to the pockets of Christmas shoppers who are members of the club.

Across The Sea

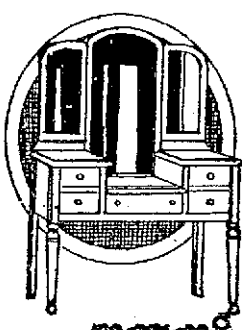

Reports from the postoffice department reveal that relatives and friends across the sea were not forgotten. During October and November more than $100,000 Christmas money was sent abroad by foreign residents of Youngstown, O., while other districts were reported to have sent thousands of dollars to points in Russia, Germany, Italy and the Balkan states. This together with a steady flow of Christmas packages for foreign lands.

That the Christmas spirit may be aided the Union Pacific railroad announced through its Omaha offices that the freight rate on Christmas trees from the far northwest between Omaha and Chicago would be reduced.

GERMANY, 1923

IS PROSPERITY REAL OR SHAM IN GERMAN?

President One of Biggest Teuton Banks Says It Is No More Genuine Than a Brick Painted Gold.

EXCESS IMPORTS OVER EXPORTS ISN'T WEALTH

By Milton Bronner.
BERLIN, Dec. 20.—"Germany's so-called prosperity is no more real than a brick painted with gold is a genuine gold ingot. It is appearance without substance."

The man who said this to me was no German politician, talking about reparations but Herr Felix Deutsch, active head of the greatest single business concern in Germany—the famous Allgemeine Elektrische Gesellschaft—huge electrical trust in the world—and president of one of Germany's big best banks.

"To illustrate," continued Herr Deutsch, "how present prices and conditions affect people:

"Take a business man with small capital who formerly bought a machine for his factory for 10,000 marks. He put aside a 2000 marks yearly as an amortization fund, so that when the machine wore out he had enough to buy a new one. If the same machine costs him today 400,000 marks, even if he can pay the purchase price, he cannot put aside the amortization fund and when the machine is worn out he is through.

"Or say a man has 1,400,000 gold marks capital in his business. Apparently he is doing splendidly, earning 100 per cent on his capital, but with the fall in the mark's value his present capital and earnings together are worth only 400,000 gold marks and really he is 1,000,000 gold marks loser.

"People say the great industrial concerns have money abroad. This has been greatly exaggerated.

"True, big undertakings have to have dollar credits. Since the Versailles treaty, with its amputation of territory from us, Germany does not produce many raw materials. She has to buy not only copper, lead, wool, cotton, flax, as before the war, but iron, zinc, coal and a great deal more of her food.

"This excess of imports over exports doesn't betoken prosperity. A nation like an individual, which buys more than it sells, is getting deeper into debt or consuming its capital.

"Much industry you see in Germany is supplying German needs. They are paid for in paper marks but the raw material is bought in foreign currencies.

"Between Berlin and Vladivostok are 300 million human beings who need our manufactured goods but can't pay for them. There are lands which can pay but have put up a wall against us high tariffs or anti-dumping laws. I mean England, France, the United States, Czechoslovakia. We still have a market in South America and to some extent in Asia.

"We haven't the gold to pay the allies and we can't pay in goods—they lock us out."

"References are made to the lack of unemployment in Germany.

"Employment is valuable to a country only when adding to its wealth. Remember the coal and other materials as we have to supply to the allies. So far as Germany is concerned the men so employed might as well be jobless.

"Neither the German government nor business men want to depreciate the mark. If Germany sold more of her goods abroad than she buys abroad there might be something in the claim but with imports exceeding exports, the cheaper the mark the worse for us."

Tomorrow: Threat of German civil war.

PUT CREAM IN NOSE AND STOP CATARRH

Tells How To Open Clogged Nostrils and End Head-Colds.

You feel fine in a few moments. Your cold in head or catarrh will be gone. Your clogged nostrils will open. The air passages of your head will clear and you can breathe freely. No more dullness, headache, no hawking, sniffling, mucous discharges or dryness; no struggling for breath at night.

Tell your druggist you want a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic cream in your nostrils, let it penetrate through the passages of the head; soothe and soothe the swollen, inflamed mucous membrane, and relief comes instantly.

It is just what every cold and catarrh sufferer needs. Don't stay stuffed-up and miserable.

Ty Cobb's First Snow in Decade

For the first time in ten years, Ty Cobb had his chance to make a snowball which he promptly threw at Big Ed Walsh in front of the Commodore in New York where the baseball magnates are meeting. Cobb has been spending every winter in his Georgia home. Here is Ty (left) with the old White Sox spit-ball artist.

Wagner's Piano, Long Lost, Is Found

The most famous piano in the world, the instrument presented to Richard Wagner by King Ludwig of Bavaria and on which the famous musician composed his greatest music dramas, has been found and is now in New York. Long lost, it was discovered in Germany by Robert H. Prosser, American soldier. Arthur Bodanzky, first conductor of the Metropolitan Opera House, is shown playing.

"Anyone can lick our navy," says Sims. Perhaps they could get a test match between it and Dempsey.

Big Eaters Get Kidney Trouble

Take Salts at first sign of Bladder Irritation or Backache.

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble, because we eat often too much red meat and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out; they weaken from overwork, become sluggish, the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead, your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache, or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or if you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus often ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; can not injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia water beverage and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.

PUPILS BEGIN BRINGING IN FOOD FOR CHRISTMAS BASKETS

Pupils have already begun to bring in food supplies for filling baskets to be distributed among the poor families of the city. A dozen or more baskets were in the office of Miss Wilhelmina Clark this morning. Each contained meats, canned goods and other foodstuffs. All of them are being made as uniform as possible.

As they have until Thursday to bring in the supplies for the baskets, it is not expected that many of the food articles will be brought in before that time. Last year over a hundred baskets were supplied. It is expected that approximately this number will be provided this Christmas.

They will be distributed Friday morning by Miss Marx and others who have volunteered for the work.
